There are so many pots and pans in the marketplace, how do you decide which ones to buy? In a word, it's performance.

To quote Elizabeth Karmel:

“I have tried and discarded many pans to find my favorites, and my new favorite is the CeramicQR. I put the pan through its paces and sautéed, fried, seared; made multiple grilled cheese sandwiches and even an egg white and spinach scramble. While this is not a “nonstick egg pan”, you can cook eggs in it—just expect a little sticking. The combination of the textured stainless steel and the ceramic surface perfectly sears and browns the surface of the food. The 9.5" CeramicQR fry pan is worth owning for grilled cheese alone!”
